

52 TONS OF BREAD GIVEN OUT AT DEPOT

Station Closes for Season
Without One Cent Going for Salaries.

DONATIONS TOTAL $5,312

They were all there yesterday—Tom Merry, Dick Bright, Mr. Groucher, Mr. Ticht, Will Givus, Mr. Goodcheer and Messrs. Raas, Tatters and Torn—all at a first street to attend the season's closing of the Sun's free bread depot.

"I wish to inquire," began Mr. Groucher, with Mr. Ticht beside him for moral support, "I wish to inquire as to the good which this institution has accomplished during the winter which has just—"

"Out of order!" shouted Tom Merry, "you're always out of order," and Dick Bright, Merry's fellow bread distributor at the little shop, took up a bellicent position beside Tom Merry, who continued:

"I have been the boss of this bread line and I am the chairman. Mr. Goodcheer has the floor."

"I will merely make the statement," began Mr. Goodcheer, "that I have been a faithful observer of the happenings at this bread station for the last three months and a half and I have seen the hundreds of hungry, jobless men and women who have been sitting in here day after day for a free loaf of bread. I have seen that bread start on its way to an empty stomach and I have seen it do its work of staying off starvation and making men face more cheery, disheartened folks more happy."

Groucher and Ticht Leave.

"When Jack Frost came calling in Tanager row, unemployed street and misery alley, I have seen Merry and Bright deal him powerful body blows which sent him sinking away from the vicinity of these stacks of bread. That's all I have to say."

"I notice that Mr. Groucher and Mr. Ticht have left the meeting," said Tom Merry, resuming. "I wish to make a report, gentlemen, as I understand it is customary for charity organizations to submit an annual report. My report differs from that of some charity reports, I am given to believe, in that our expenses this season amounted to $3,736, not one cent of which went for salaries or stenographers or mahogany furnishings. The Sun paid the salaries of Dick and myself."

"The amount of money on hand December 15 was $576. On that day the bread station was opened for the winter. Then contributions came in for $5,312.70, making a total of $5,888.70. The total expenditures of $3,736 were made as follows: $3,666 for bread and $70 for rent. Accordingly, the balance left on hand is $2,152.70, which will be used to reopen the bread depot when next winter comes marching down the city streets."

172,000 Loaves Given Away.

"Since December 15 bread has been distributed every week day. A total of 172,000 loaves of bread has been given away for the asking, our motto having been 'give to the starving first, investigate later.' For those who like more concrete information I might say that we have distributed about fifty-two tons of bread. We gave away 116,900 more loaves of bread this year than a year ago, because the past winter has been an unusual one for the number of men out of jobs and for all kinds of suffering and misery—those who the bread station was opened for the winter long period this year. That's all, gentlemen, the meeting is adjourned."

Thereafter Merry and Bright turned to handling out the usual 2,000 loaves of bread, which constituted their last day's work at the depot. Now they're out of a job themselves. In Dick there is a mighty handy porter or any sort of heavy laborer waiting for a job. Tom Merry has been a delivery and a receiving clerk for steamship lines for years. His last words yesterday were: "You have always been profuse in quoting me in the public prints. You may quote me now as saying that Dick and I can be reached by telephone, Orchard 3037, most any time, prospective employers take notice."

NO DIVORCE FIGHT BY ROGERS.

Time Limit Passed for Answering Wife's Charges.

That Loris Elton Rogers, the lawyer indicted because of his relations with Mrs. Ida Shuffert Walters, does not intend to defend the divorce suit started by Mrs. Caroline Giddings Rogers, sister of Prof. Franklin H. Giddings of Columbia, became known in the Supreme Court yesterday when the case was placed on the "undefended" divorce calendar for trial next month. Rogers has filed no answer and his time has expired.

In the usual course the divorce suit will be tried and a decree granted before the criminal charges against Rogers and the woman are tried, but if he intends to wed Mrs. Walters he will be unable to do so until three months after the interlocutory decree is signed. Unless the trials of both are delayed until fall it is unlikely that Rogers will be the husband of the woman at the time they are called to the bar for trial, which would prevent both Rogers and the woman from testifying against each other.

TUBE TRAIN CHASES MADMAN.

Captured After Exhilarating Pursuit in Subway.

Passengers at the South Ferry subway station yesterday morning witnessed the start of a race between a crazed negro stout and two policemen on a subway train.

The negro, Christopher Columbus Haynes, 25, of 510 West 115th street, knocked down Edward Garrity, the ticket chopper, who demanded a ticket when the negro entered the station. Then Haynes jumped to the tracks and sprinted in the direction of Bowling Green. Policemen Fitzpatrick and Argenza jumped on an express and pursued. When the train overtook the negro Haynes turned and gave battle to the policemen. He was overpowered and sent to Bellevue for observation.

Week's Customs Receipts Heavy.

The total receipts for duties on imports at the Custom House for the week ended yesterday were $3,136,977.71, one of the largest weeks' totals since the European war began. The receipts for yesterday when the Collector's office closed at noon were $216,987.45 of which $22,374.64 was for goods withdrawn from bonded warehouses and $169,622.81 for duties on recent importations.
